GENERAL HOLIDAY DECLARED TOMORROW

Open House for Sailors of Warship Provided
as Public Hospitality;
Honors for Officers

The official program of Oakland's Harbor Day, which will be celebrated tomorrow, is as follows:

10:30—Reception to visiting mayors and presidents of California chambers of commerce at mayor's office, City Hall.

10:45—Inspection of Quay Wall by visiting mayors and chamber of commerce officials, foot of Clay street.

11:30—Arrival of U. S. S. Milwaukee at Quay Wall. Reception to officers and New York State Exposition Commission.

12:00—Officers of ship at City Hall, to call on city officials.

12:30—Luncheon, in ball room, to which all citizens are invited, in honor of officers of ship and New York State Exposition Commission.

2:00—Auto ride for guests.

2:00 to 5:00 p. m.—U. S. S. Milwaukee tied up at dock and open to public without charge.

Afternoon and Evening—Uniformed men from ship admitted without charge to following theaters as guests of respective managements: Oakland Photo Theater, Franklin Theater, Orpheum Theater, Regent Theater, Pantages Theater.

Oakland will tomorrow celebrate the greatest civic and commercial event in her history, and proclaim to the world that the city's harbor may enter her inner harbor. Up at the quay wall and transact the mighty business of commerce. The U. S. S. Milwaukee, first class cruiser of Uncle Sam's Pacific fleet, with a displacement of 9,700 tons, will steam into the estuary at 11:30 o'clock and berth at the quay wall. This will mark the first time in Coast history that a war vessel has tied up to a municipal wharf.

The city will be in its Sunday best for the occasion. Mayor John L. Davis has proclaimed tomorrow to be a general legal holiday, and the city council has adopted resolutions to that effect. Most of the stores will close their doors for a portion of the day, at least, employees will be given half holidays, and employers will lay away business cares to take up the business of fittingly celebrating the event which marks the city's harbor as one of the future great ports of the Pacific ocean.

OTHER MAYORS INVITED.

Mayor Davis has sent out invitations to the mayors of fifty Central California cities to be guests of Oakland tomorrow. Many have accepted, and will help make the celebration a similar one. Invitations have been forwarded to the presidents and secretaries of fifty-five Chambers of Commerce in the central part of the state, and many of these officials will be here to extend to Oakland the right hand of fellowship. These invitations have been sent out by the Chamber of Commerce-Commercial Club.

Fully 15,000 people, it is expected, will be on the quay wall to welcome the naval giant. All the smaller bay craft, the tugs and launches and ferry boats, will tie down their whistle cords as the Milwaukee steams into the harbor. Owners of pleasure craft will follow in her wake, as will the commercial steamers Admiral Dewey and Bear, which will also tie up at the quay wall piers.

H. C. Capwell will be captain of the reception committee of the Chamber of Commerce-Commercial Club, the members of which will be at the quay wall end of the gang plank to give welcome to the Milwaukee's officers, when they come ashore. The civic organization officials will gather at the waterfront-completed municipal warehouse at 11 o'clock. The Milwaukee is due to arrive at her berth at 11:30 o'clock.

LUNCHEON FOR OFFICERS.

Formal greetings at an officers' command Simmons and his staff commanders will be placed in automobiles and taken to Hotel Oakland, where 500 club members and business men of the city will be their hosts at a luncheon to be held in the Ivory Ball Room. The visiting city officials and heads of out-of-town Chambers of Commerce will also be guests. Victor H. Metcalf, president of the Chamber of Commerce-Commercial Club, will preside. It has been announced that the number of those at the luncheon will be limited to 500, and places will be reserved for but that number.

Rare Wines Stolen By Prominent Men

Plead Guilty to Robbing
Cellar of Friend

History of a cellar of ancient wine, almost as priceless as molten gold, and the theft of two wealthy Hayward capitalists was brought out in the justice court of Judge Charles F. W. Brown this morning when Guillermo Metelli, baseball magnate and former wealthy sheep man, and H. Hazelrigg, owner of a large public factory, were fined $25 each in charges of looting the cellar of Antonio Demato of Hayward.

Demato, in his complaint, told of his famous cellar, which only a chosen few friends ever had seen. Here the earliest vintages of California and the finest wines of Europe were stored. He said Hazelrigg and Metelli, his friends, often partook of his hospitality, but finally he began to miss cases of his best wines. Investigation followed and the arrest of the accused men, who pleaded guilty to taking the wine. Both paid $25 fines and were released.

The stolen wine, valuable claret, was settled for out of court. Both the accused men are wealthy and could have purchased the wine, it was claimed in court, had it been for sale.

To Indict Many In War Plot Ring Government Has 'Mount of Evidence'

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—All evidence gathered by agents of the United States Government bearing on German plots to prevent war munitions from reaching the allies will be submitted to the federal grand jury this week. It is understood that a blanket indictment will be asked against all the persons involved.

The mass of evidence collected is described by federal officials as "mountain high." It is the result of more than a year's work. It involves scores of persons operating as an organization, the direction of which was in the hands of a few men.

It is asserted that directors of the conspiracies controlled a German fund of $400,000. The evidence is understood to cover the whole field of foreign criminal activity in America in the traffic of fraudulent passports, plots to blow up steamships carrying war munitions, fires and explosions in munition plants, efforts to foment strikes and efforts to buy control of munition plants.

Says Lady Paget Will Aid Bulgars

Englishman Shocked at
'Serb Atrocities'

BERLIN, Nov. 22, by wireless to Seattle.—"Horrible by Serbian mistreatment of Bulgarian soldiers Lady Paget has requested admission to the Bulgarian Red Cross," the Overseas News Agency says.

Lady Paget, who is the wife of Sir Ralph Paget, British under secretary for foreign affairs, conducted a Red Cross hospital at Eszup, Serbia.

The Overseas News Agency says that she was so affected by Serbian looting and barbarism that she has written to London her regret that England is allied with Serbia.

Germans Capture Serbian Arsenal

2500 Prisoners Taken at Novipazar

BERLIN, Nov. 22.—The capture of more than 2,500 Serbian soldiers by the German war office today. Five cannon and four machine guns were taken in the field of operations, while in the Novipazar arsenal, fifty large mortars and eight cannon of an old type were found.

Montenegro Front Withstands Attack

PARIS, Nov. 22.—An official communication issued by the Montenegro army headquarters was given out here today by the Montenegro consulate as follows:

"Our Sanjak army was attacked November 20 along the entire front, more energetically on the Drina and Lim Rivers. Everywhere the enemy was repulsed.

"On the other fronts there were artillery battles."

Italian Advance on Isonzo Front

ROME, Nov. 22.—The Italian troops have made an important advance on the Isonzo front, especially on the heights northwest of Gorizia, according to an official statement issued today at the headquarters of the general staff. The ground gained was retained, it is claimed, in spite of vigorous Austrian counterattacks.

Order Warships to Fair at San Diego

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The old battleship Oregon and the cruisers South Dakota and Milwaukee have been ordered to San Diego from San Francisco for the exposition in the former city.

CONTINUE FIGHT FOR MEMBERS

Chamber of Commerce
Boosters Start Last
Lap of Campaign

Only Three Hundred
New Names Needed to Succeed

"Bust the Thermometer!" is the new war cry of the thirty-two teams in the Chamber of Commerce expansion movement.

The big thermometer on the First National Bank building has a "tube" that shows the rising membership. Saturday the "mercury" registered 2500, and 2500 is the top figure that the thermometer can record.

CELEBRATION IS PLANNED.

By Wednesday noon at the latest, it is believed that this figure will be passed, and when it is, a celebration is planned by the captains and their teams. They will march from the Chamber of Commerce offices to Fourteenth and Broadway, pull down the thermometer, build a funeral pyre in the middle of the street and burn it.

The teams started this morning on the last lap of the membership race. They have only 300 more members to secure to reach the 2500 goal that was set at the start of the campaign. As considerably more than 100 a day was averaged last week, it is thought there will be no trouble in "busting the thermometer" by tomorrow noon, or Wednesday at the latest.

LUNCHEON FOR WOMEN.

The business women who have joined the organization during the last week are to be tendered a luncheon some day this week at the Commercial Club rooms in the Hotel Oakland. The date will be announced later.

Economy Starts in House of Commons

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Wooden spills in the place of matches, penny wood-penholders instead of the quills so dear to British officialdom and a few envelopes and odd sheets of note paper instead of unlimited supplies, have been ordered by the House of Commons.

In reply to angry protests the attendants explained this was the first step in the direction of national economy demanded so urgently in recent speeches in the House of Commons.

Exposition Funds Are Sought by Governor

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 22.—In his special session to the legislature, met in special session today, Governor Dunne pointed out that the last assembly failed to reappropriate the unexpended balance voted by the previous Legislature for Illinois' part for the Panama-Pacific Exposition. He asks that this be remedied so that the state may be paid, the state buildings removed from the Exposition grounds, and the accounts of the commissioner closed.

Great Explosion Alarms Parisians

PARIS, Nov. 22.—Residents of western and northwestern suburbs of Paris were alarmed yesterday morning by a violent explosion. The shock rattled windows at points forty miles apart. The authorities thus far have been unable to ascertain the cause, which the explosion occurred. It is suggested that the noise may have been due to bursting of a meteor.

Fears for Oregon Town Are Relieved

HAMMOND, Ore., Nov. 22.—After two nights of anxiety for the safety of this town of 300 inhabitants, which was threatened with destruction by a storm that has raged along the coast, citizens were relieved early today to find the town saved and the sea calmer. The town is located on a narrow peninsula, between the mouth of the Columbia and the sea.

Bear on Rumania to Stay Neutral

ROME, Nov. 22.—Germany and Austria-Hungary are understood to be asking Rumania to preserve neutrality and at the same time offering certain concessions to her if she will intervene in the war on the side of the central powers, according to information received here today from reliable sources.

Austro-Germans Capture 40 Forts

BERLIN, Nov. 22.—Forty fortresses have been captured by the armies of the central powers to date, according to a communication made by the Overseas News Agency. Five of these fortresses were in Belgium, twelve were in France, fifteen were in Russia and eight were in Serbia.

NOVIPAZAR CAPTURED.

BERLIN, Nov. 22.—The Serbian town of Novipazar, which is only 25 miles from the Montenegro frontier, has been captured by the Germans. This announcement was made today by the war office, which reported also the capture of 4400 Serbians yesterday.

AUTOPSY ON CHILD STIRS UP PROTEST BY OFFICIAL

Legal Right of Scientists
Involved in County
Infirmary Case, Is
Hinted by Dr. Wills

U. C. PROFESSORS MAY BE DEBARRED

Legal Opinion Demanded
Before a Decision
May Be Forthcoming
From the Supervisors

Formal demand for a written opinion from the district attorney as to whether or not the University of California and other colleges or scientists have a right to perform autopsies on the dead at the County Infirmary was made this morning at the meeting of the Board of Supervisors, following a heated debate in which Mrs. Charles Farrell declared that the body of her foster niece had been mutilated, and Dr. C. A. Wills of the County Infirmary denied this statement.

The opinion has been asked several times by Dr. Wills, who, following Mrs. Farrell's complaint, has stopped all autopsies pending legal decisions on the case.

Mrs. Farrell was subjected to a searching cross-examination by the supervisors. It developed that she, a foster-aunt of Gladys Wyman, the girl whose body caused the trouble, was making the complaint, and that the child's parents, although they had cared for the child during her life, were not present or complaining. She charged that the organs of the child's body had been removed before it was turned over to an undertaker, and said that the undertaker had so informed her. Chairman Murphy, declaring that no proof was before the board, refused to consider this charge without evidence.

Supervisor Foss brought up the matter as the board was about to adjourn, and also the matter of Dr. Wills having had several cases of private practice. Kelley objected, having another engagement, and declaring that Foss was late at the meeting or the matter would have been handled before.

LATE OR NOT?

"I have important business," said Kelley. "If Mr. Foss had gotten here on time there would have been ample time to transact business."

"There was no district attorney's deputy here," said Foss.

"Two were here all morning," said Murphy.

"Did not see them," said Foss.

Mrs. Charles Farrell, aunt of Gladys Wyman, subject of the alleged autopsy at the County Infirmary several weeks ago, asked if the autopsy action was legal.

"Is it legal to dissect a body and take out organs without permission?" she demanded.

"No organs were taken out," said Murphy.

"We would have to dig up the body to prove that," said Mrs. Farrell.

"Well, if necessary," said Murphy, "that the organs of this body have been removed," when Dr. Wills arrived.

"An autopsy was held on the body at our morgue," said Wills. No dissection. The organs removed by me or retained at the hospital. A professor was the operator. Microscopic sections of organs sometimes are removed. If this was done a record is on file at the University of California. I know personally the charge that the intestines were removed is not true. There may have been some microscopic sections taken.

LEGAL RIGHT QUESTIONED.

"Has the University of California the right to hold an autopsy?" asked Foss.

"Or the coroner?"

"PLAQUE," DEMANDS "COFFEE TOM"

"Millionaires, scientists and baseball players have received bronze plaques — and if we indigents are guests of honor at the exposition, we ought to have a plaque too. I hereby ask that I be presented with one, as the oldest man in the Alameda County Infirmary, when we visit the fair November 26.

"COFFEE TOM."

This is the appeal to be sent to President C. C. Moore of the exposition tomorrow. On November 26 the inmates of the County Infirmary will visit the fair as guests of the county; $200 being appropriated for the purpose at the Board of Supervisors' session this morning. The program has been mapped out — but the aged inmates at the infirmary found that the plaque was not included. They say they are entitled to one, and that they demand it as the county's money's worth. Coffee Tom will act as spokes-

Driven Out of Mexico, Mining Man Turns Thief Breaks Law When Wife Pawns Wedding Ring

COLLECTION OF ART MAY GO TO CITY

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22.—The will of the late Peter A. Widener, admitted to probate today, leaves the bulk of his estate, estimated between $50,000,000 and $70,000,000, to his son, Joseph E. Widener, in trust.

Joseph E. Widener, under the terms of the will, is given complete authority of his father's collection of paintings and art works, considered one of the most valuable in America.

He is given uncontrolled discretion to present the collection to either the city of Philadelphia, Washington or New York. In the event he sees fit to present the collection to the city of Philadelphia, Widener is authorized to erect out of the funds of the estate an art gallery properly endowed.

Widener's collection of paintings and art works are world-famous and are valued at several million dollars. Among the masterpieces in the collection are Rembrandt's "The Mill," for which Widener some years ago paid $500,000; Raphael's famous "Fountain," "Madonna" and Botticelli's "Madonna of the Thorns."

In the event the son fails to dispose of the art collection in his lifetime or by will, the executors are directed to sell it for the benefit of the estate.

After making numerous bequests to members of the family, the will directs that the residuary estate be held in trust until twenty-one years after the death of the last survivor of those descendants who were alive at the time of P. A. B. Widener's death. The income is to be divided monthly into as many shares as there are sons living and sons dead. Widener had but two children, Joseph E. Widener and George D. Widener, who lost his life when the steamer Titanic went down.

Wealthy Woman Leaps Into Lake

Escapes Hospital in Her Nightclothes

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Mrs. Helen Blatchford, a wealthy Winnetka resident, escaped from a hospital today clad in thin sickroom garments, fled three miles against a cold wind to Lincoln park, where she committed suicide by casting herself into Lake Michigan.

The woman's husband, Nathaniel Hopkins Blatchford, is a well-known business and clubman.

Germany Has Persian Sympathy Says Envoy

BERLIN, Nov. 22.—The Vossische Zeitung publishes an interview with M. Kulkhan, the new Persian minister to Germany, in the course of which the minister said:

"While Persia is neutral, the Islamic sentiments and natural opposition to foreign oppression incline the people's sympathies to Germany. The Russians may be before Teheran before the British, but it is doubtful whether they will enter, as the British would not want to see them in the Persian capital."

The present course of the Russians in North Persia is due to the fact that they are seeking territory to compensate them for their losses in Europe. Persia's relations with Turkey are friendly. A strong feeling against the Russians exists in North Persia and against the British in South Persia, since these nations assume the right to exercise a guardianship over the Persian government and people. But the Russians and British are Persia's neighbors and are very strong. While Germany, unfortunately, is far away. Therefore, it is necessary to find a modus vivendi with them."

NEW ATTACK STARTED AT GALLIPOLI

ROTTERDAM, Nov. 22.—The Cologne Gazette reports that a great offensive movement has been initiated at the Dardanelles by the allies.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Sinking of a Turkish transport which was carrying 500 soldiers across the Sea of Marmora is reported in a message from Surich, forwarded from Amsterdam by the Central News. The message says the transport struck a mine and nearly all on board were drowned.

Two more British steamships, the Hallamshire and Merganser, have been sunk, but the crews were saved.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 22.—Violent fighting in the vicinity of Seddul Bahr, on the tip of Gallipoli peninsula, is reported by the war office today. The statement follows:

"Artillery duels are in progress on the Dardanelles front. Violent fighting with bombs is taking place near Seddul Bahr."

Great Britain Is Favored by Persia

German Sympathizers
Retiring to Kum

PARIS, Nov. 22.—The Havas correspondent at Teheran says that following the adjustment of relations between Persia and Russia, the desire is expressed in Persian court and governmental quarters for closer relations with Great Britain.

The Persian minister of the interior has taken definite action to put an end to the situation brought about by partisans of Germany and Turkey, by rescinding various measures against Russian subjects.

The Persians who have been active on behalf of Germany, the correspondent says, are retiring to the south toward Kum, where they are continuing their agitation.

LANDLADY COMES TO AID OF HIS MATE

Hunger Leads Charles Bishop to Invade Libbey Home in Night

Driven by conditions in Mexico to absolute want, Charles Gordon Bishop, formerly a wealthy mining man, and a brother of Harry Frederick Bishop, manager of the Victoria, B. C., Royal Bank of Canada, is in the city prison, a confessed burglar. He was captured yesterday after an exciting chase through the streets, in which he sought to escape with loot worth $1000.

Her husband behind prison bars, Mrs. Bishop, a pretty woman, the daughter of a once famous wealthy Mexican rancher, faced destitution until this morning when Mrs. A. Blum, owner of the house at 587 Seventeenth street, in which the unfortunate couple have lived for the past few months, came to her assistance, and assured her that she would see her through in spite of the fact that they are already in her debt for money loaned and for house rent.

"These people are in trouble through no fault of their own, and I will help them all I can, although they already owe me a considerable sum," Mrs. Blum said today. "They are fine people, and only desperation could have driven this man to commit crime. It's just a case of a good man driven to crime through circumstances. Little Mrs. Bishop need have no fear while her husband is in jail. I'm sure that all will be well soon, and I'll see that she doesn't suffer during that time."

FREELY CONFESSES.

Bishop freely confesses his crime. He is one of the numerous American victims of the Mexican troubles. He has extensive interests in the war-torn country, including a number of gold and silver mines near Teocorip. With his wife, he was forced to flee the country after their lives had been threatened on numerous occasions by bands of outlaws. On one occasion his horse was shot from under him, and he was forced to make his escape on foot from his would-be murderers. Financial reverses incident to the war made Bishop bankrupt, and the once wealthy man and his wife arrived in Oakland several months ago with but a few dollars.

When Bishop heard of the pawning of the wedding ring he resolved to burglarize a wealthy home. He chose that of M. L. Libbey, 684 Merritt avenue, late Saturday night, going there after he had armed himself with a sawed-off shotgun, a deputy sheriff's star and a pair of handcuffs. He first sent his wife to a motion picture theater. He explained later that he had intended to tell anyone who might stop that he was a deputy sheriff in search of a burglar.

FILLS SUIT CASES.

The amateur burglar clambered upon a balcony leading to the second floor of the Libbey home, broke a pane of window glass and entered. He ransacked the house, the members of the family being away from home. He left with three well-filled suitcases, after having exchanged his old clothes for a new suit owned by Libbey.

While carrying two of the suitcases across the street, on his way to a cache in the Piedmont hills, Bishop was accosted by Cecil Hitchcock, who conducts a private police patrol. When ordered to stop, Bishop ran to a passing jitney and jumped in.

Hitchcock commanded a passing automobile and after a chase half a mile around Lake Merritt succeeded in capturing the fugitive. Bishop made a confession to the police and later led the officers to the place in the hills where he had already hidden one suitcase.

MAKES STATEMENT.

His theft in jewelry and silverware amounted to almost $1000. In a statement to the police Bishop said:

"I was for several years in the mining business in Mexico. The Mexican revolution bankrupted me. I came to Oakland seeking work, but was able only to get odd jobs and a dealer's restaurant as a dishwasher in restaurants. Our condition became so bad that my wife pawned her wedding ring for $2.50 to get groceries. Saturday night I decided that I must make an attempt to better our condition and took this chance."

The police believe Bishop may be the man who has committed several burglaries in the Lakeside district. "I knew nothing of my husband's intention to commit crime," said Mrs. Bishop, who is in a state of nervous prostration, this morning. "He left me at a moving picture show Saturday night. I missed him when I went home, but had no suspicion that anything was amiss until I learned that he was in jail. He has often spoken of making a return to Mexico, but he has been back to his mines in Mexico, but luck was against us. Both my husband and myself have tried repeatedly to get work here. I am a dressmaker, but could find no employment."

"My husband secured temporary engagements in cabarets as a singer, but finally we reached our last resources. It is terrible to be in such circumstances, and I suppose the thought of it made my husband do this thing. We will go back to Mexico when things become settled and take up mining again."

West African City Taken by British

PARIS, Nov. 22.—Official announcement was made today of the capture by French and British forces of the city of Tibati, in the German colony of Kamerun, Western Africa, as the result of a surprise attack.

BURGLARS MAKE HAUL IN ALAMEDA

Three Homes Are Visited in One Evening: Police Have No Clue.

ADAMANT. NOW, if these bodies in this city were organized last evening and a riotous mob would and should surround the residence of the late Senator, the National Guard would be called out. So with this view, it is believed that the National Guard was called out to prevent any further disturbances.

One of the John O'Learys is to put on special watches as a result of the latter's activities and believes that he will be the first to detect if they operate from within.

The names entered last night and the address of each are as follows:

John O'Leary, residence, 3319 Liberty avenue; James gold watch, assorted jewelry and stockings.

W. J. Anderson, 215 Fair View avenue.

John H. Hines, travel, receiver, and communication ticket.

H. L. Beck, 2215 Fair View avenue.

The houses were all thoroughly ransacked and contents of drawers turned top-sy-turvy. The burglars evidently used jacks keys to make their entrance.

The home of Thomas H. Huskins, member of the Board of Health, at 2138 San Jose avenue, was entered Saturday evening and $40 and a gold watch were stolen.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 22. — Henry Schuman, a fisherman who weighs 200 pounds and who resides at the north end of Chestnut street, went on a rampage Saturday night and intended to clean out all his neighbors, according to Samuel Blomberg. The result was, that Schuman landed in the city prison covered with wounds of every style and variety, and also had a charge of disturbing the peace against him. He was treated at the emergency hospital and then locked up.

Peterson claimed that Schuman, in a belligerent mood, went out looking for him. They met and Peterson, with the aid in a neighbor, delivered to Schumann a punishing left hand which battered him, leaving him bleeding.

Police Officer Willing ended the fracas and took Schuman to the city hall.

THE TRACTION NICKEL
SUPPORTS HOME INDUSTRY

By far the largest portion is paid for LABOR. All of this is spent in the East Bay Cities.

The next largest item is INTEREST. Of the 2,322 bondholders and noteholders of the Company 1,847 or 80% reside within 50 miles of the Oakland City Hall.

POWER is generated in part at our Yerba Buena plant in Emeryville and in part purchased from the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, another home industry.

Except for a small amount levied by the Federal Government, all TAXES are paid for the support of the local and state governments.

EXPENDITURES for MAINTENANCE OF PLANT AND EQUIPMENT are disbursed locally, except in the case of material and supplies, some necessarily obtained outside of California, but all through local houses.

The major portion of the sum spent for MISCELLANEOUS AND GENERAL EXPENSES is disbursed in the East Bay Cities.

"SAIL AND RAIL MEET."

The people of Oakland will have an opportunity tomorrow to inspect those obtuse angles in the municipal quay wall which some weeks ago provided a vexed question in official discussions of municipal affairs. The demonstration of the adequacy of the quay wall is to be rather thorough and severe. The United States cruiser Milwaukee and the merchant ships Admiral Dewey and Bear are to come alongside the wharf. Their combined length is as great as the length of the quay wall, so the angles will be occupied.

These vessels are coming to participate in the celebration of the completion of the first unit in Oakland's scheme of waterfront development. The visit of the Milwaukee will mark the first occasion of a naval vessel tying up at a municipal wharf. The Milwaukee is a large cruiser, of 9800 tons displacement and twenty-six feet draft. The Admiral Dewey and the Bear are well-known in the coastwise sea trade, and the accommodation of this fleet at the new wharf, one of the finest in the country, comprises the most forceful announcement possible that Oakland has seriously entered upon her career as a great commercial port. It also will serve as a notice to the maritime world that we are prepared to dock the largest merchant vessels afloat. Switching facilities have connected the wharf directly with the trans-continental railway lines having their actual terminals in this city. "Sail and rail" have been made to meet. It is an epoch-making event in the development of Oakland. The city here enters upon its active career as a deep-water railway terminal and seaport, a strategic commercial advantage heretofore undeveloped and unused.

It is fitting that the population of Oakland turn out tomorrow in commemoration of this important event. The staffs of the cruiser Milwaukee and the merchant vessels will come ashore and pay an official call upon the officers of the city government. The Commercial Club will tender the visitors a luncheon and during the afternoon the public may visit aboard the naval vessel. Many of the business houses will close and help make the event a city holiday.

We venture here to remind the people of Oakland that the much-discussed angles in the quay wall will play no part in this celebration. The seacraft coming to congratulate Oakland upon her achievement will find the quay entirely serviceable and adequate for all purposes; so will merchant vessels arriving to participate in the business of the future. The division of opinion over the virtues and vices of angles was a loss of time and destructive of reputations, public confidence and community enterprise. Just as the visiting ships will tomorrow demonstrate that angles in the quay wall are inconsequential, so should the people resolve that in the future no time shall be lost in profitless disputes, and disagreement over trivial matters. If the development of our waterfront and harbor facilities is to mean anything in the progress of this city, there must be a spirit of co-operation in all civic enterprises. And all individual ideas and opinions, in order to result in the highest degree of efficiency, must be assembled in a clearing house created to conserve and promote community welfare.

BRAND WHITLOCK.

Among Americans who have been laboring in an official or private capacity in the belligerent countries of Europe during the last eighteen months there is one man who, for individual beneficent service, stands conspicuously above all others. That man is Brand Whitlock of Ohio, minister to what was once Belgium.

This is true in the face of the fact that all American diplomats in Europe have been called upon to perform unprecedented tasks, in volume and number. The American Ambassador at Berlin has had more than his share of labor, but he has had an adequate staff to assist him and always the recognition of his official rank; the same thing may be said of Mr. Morgenthau at Constantinople. Mr. Herbert Hoover, a Californian, has conducted a magnificent relief work for the suffering people of Belgium and Northern France, but he has had mainly to call upon his organizing and directing talents.

Mr. Whitlock, however, has been reduced to a most uncertain and trying situation. He has had no official standing with the government now in control in Belgium. He has been America's representative in a country that is conquered, and in the hands of the conqueror; its government gone; nothing left but a part of the humanity. Mr. Whitlock quit writing and reading official dispatches and closed his office to work with his hands and head for the troubled and the suffering. He has become the unofficial representative of American sympathy and generosity. He has had authority to speak only for the heart of America and present the voice of our love, our sorrow and our solicitude for the homeless, the hungry and the wounded body and spirit.

To do this well has required the highest quality of tact, of patience and of individual physical action. Mr. Whitlock has had to visit prisons, hospitals, homes and the untended fields, always searching out, not the amiable and smiling, but the weeping and mournful. His work has been to see how bad conditions were and then request relief of the proper authority.

It was heart-breaking work, but Mr. Whitlock seems not to have tired until recently when he was forced to take a vacation. He has endeared himself and America to the Belgian people; yet has made himself welcome and popular with the German military authorities. His sojourn in Belgium has been marked by something more than great ability—by a certain nobleness of character that will cause him henceforth to be regarded with something akin to affection both at home and abroad.

A CHRISTMAS MESSAGE—SHOP EARLY.

In arranging for Christmas buying and giving, we often forget the large army of men and women who have to work, and work harder than usual, during this season. This is partly due to the fact that we view their fate as a matter of course and partly because we are thoughtlessly selfish. We seldom think that about December 23d many a girl will be on the verge of a breakdown because of long, tedious hours of work in serving our needs and our pleasures.

The spirit of true goodwill is intolerant of selfishness. The Christmas heart beats for all, the employees of the stores as well as patrons. "Goodwill toward men" in Oakland means early Christmas shopping. It means buy it today; but it in November; leave as few of your purchases for the third week of December as possible. We have no right or lawful privilege to deny to the salesman, the saleswoman, the cashier and the bookkeeper any of the Christmas joys. Yet we will do just this if we wait until the last few days to do our shopping and then work them into such a state of exhaustion they are unable to eat their Christmas dinner or read the scribbled lines of presentation on the fly-leaf of the holly-decorated "Pilgrim's Progress" or "Christmas Carol."

There is another servant of the public who at Christmas time is hard put to tell whether he is human or a horse—the letter-carrier. Why not purchase and dispatch the gifts you purpose to send out of town now? Remember, there are postmen in Winnemucca, Washington and Wilmington, and if they get your parcel Christmas Eve or Christmas Day they are either going to display a superhuman quality of patience or call you harsh names. There is a pretty custom of placing gift packages aside unopened until Christmas morning, so there is no reason why your present should not be posted on the 5th as well as the 24th.

There are other reasons why you should shop early—such as seizing the opportunity to view a bigger and better assortment of goods, the impending rainy season, etc., but it seems to us that simple consideration for wage-earning humanity ought to be a sufficient incentive to you to get the Christmas spirit a little earlier this year and think of your neighbor who must work in Christmas shops.

Congressman Julius Kahn was singled out for an earnest compliment at the luncheon given last Saturday by Mr. Norman E. Mack, former chairman of the National Democratic Committee, to Mr. Frank H. Hitchcock, former chairman of the Republican National Committee and Postmaster-General under President Taft. In the course of the informal speech-making Mr. Mack took occasion to say:

"Mr. Kahn has proved himself to be one of the most influential and successful representatives in Congress. His ability to gain recognition and carry points in behalf of his constituents and his state is widely recognized. His energy, conscientious attention to every duty and every demand upon his time and attention are marvels at the national capital. I have never in my experience been acquainted with a better Congressman from any state."

This tribute from a high Democratic source is a valuable testimonial and indisputable proof that Mr. Kahn's reputation and record is made up exclusively of efforts and acts in the service of the district and the State he represents.

A prominent Progressive advances the idea that Republican leaders in Ohio have adroitly sidetracked ex-President Taft through the withdrawal of all aspirants in favor of Burton. This is a transparent attempt to start something. Taft has said that he is not aspiring, and he long ago established a reputation for meaning what he says.

There are at present forty-six kitchens in Mexico City, where food is distributed to the needy free. General Carranza announces, in a resume of the things he expects to accomplish, that he will reduce the number slightly. Thus the progress of the de facto government in Mexico is recorded.

NOTES AND COMMENT

With the holding up of Bryan's book on India and the arrest of a Nevada man for publishing a quotation from Addison, the Postoffice Department is getting touchy.

T. R. has announced that he will support any Republican candidate who was not a participant in the "secret" of 1912. What about Reagan?

Senator Penrose's private statement that he is not a candidate for the Presidency is evidently meant for the other side. They do not find him such a shining mark as a result.

The doctrine of preparedness is visibly making headway. What happens to countries that ignore it is so palpable there should be no doubt at all.

Elmer Root positively declines, but he reminds the country that they have a great and proved man in William H. Taft. However, Taft shies, and the public eye turns elsewhere.

This is the season when the wishbone obtrudes, but "backbone" should always be in evidence. It is what counts.

The San Francisco judge who ruled that a woman may recover from a married man for breach of promise threw a great scare into the mashers; but he gave no offense to decent people.

A correspondent writes of a church altar in one of the bombed cities being covered with sand bags. It is something to ponder that they have to protect Christian shrines in this way from the cannon of Christians.

It is pointed out that one Jennings of Kansas is suffering from foot and mouth disease and is quarantined, while Jennings Bryan of Nebraska, who hasn't yet contracted the foot disease, is at large.

Many preach preparedness, but few join the volunteer soldier ranks. That is something else again.

Mrs. Carolan of San Francisco got her dog story in print in great shape. A "police" dog accompanies her and protects her from blackhanders and other terrors. It reads fine.

BORNE BY MOTHER.

The annual reports issued by the bureau of health for the Philippine Islands furnish statistical information with remarkable detail. The tabular statements are such as to convey at a glance a greater amount of specific knowledge—relating to causes of death, age at death, death-rate in specified classes of the population, frequency of various diseases, etc.—than is usually accessible in such condensed shape in similar reports to our home states. A curious instance of special classification is the table of births in Manila, classed "according to number of children borne by mother." In the report just come to hand, the table includes entries up to the twenty-second child, and we have noticed about the same limit in previous years. Only one infant was born in the year who had thus been preceded by twenty-one fellow-children of the same mother; but of twenty-six and nineteen children there were two each.

Of the sixteen children born, and of fourteen children no less than twenty-three. This, in a population of only twenty-two of this city, is doubly noteworthy from Colonel Roosevelt's standpoint.

—New York Post.

OUR DEFENSE.

The Army cannot defend all its forts; it has no automobiles to transport all its baggage; its soldiers are for the parade ground and will wear out under two months' marching. "It is a motor-ambulance for its wounded. Its supply system cannot stand the strain of war, but will break down as it did during the Spanish war. It is without ammunition trains, armored automobiles, armored railroads, heavy mortars for field work, gas ammunition and for a couple of days' supply and with less than one hour's supply of food, and with no guns, and has no sufficient food and shelter. The mobile army in the continental United States is out a little larger than twice the New York police force, and its reserve counts some sixteen men. It masters ten aeroplanes, all of which cannot fly—Henry Reuterland in December.

HYMN'S PATHETIC HISTORY.

Of all our hymns there has a more pathetic history than "Abide with Me," sung by Mrs. Cavell only a few short hours before her death, and as the opening hymn at her memorial service. The Rev. Henry F. Lyte who wrote it, was practically under sentence of death at the time. For twenty-four years he had been weak and suffering from a brain disease, and he died on the day he preached his final sermon there that Lyte, then aged, started for New York, where he died, composed the hymn, "Intended," it has been said, "as a hymn of comfort for those who were about to depart from life, and not primarily as an evening hymn." Of the eight verses only four or five are commonly sung, the general sense of congregations having retained about half of the hymn as Lyte penned it—London Daily Chronicle.

THE SECRET OF SUCCESS.

Some of us are like certain farmers who are utterly unimpaired by the winter season and the wind being in the wrong quarter for seed-sowing. We do not succeed because we are to attempt it. I remember years ago a writer of books told me that the secret of writing was to get down and begin to write. The key to success in almost any kind of activity, think a good farmer or being a good Christian, is courage of action and courage of faith. The Christian likewise does not stop working because some one criticizes him or circumstances may not seem altogether propitious; it is his business to go on, to act in the faith with a steady, good conviction, and call out of the rain—The Christian Herald.

DISRAELI AS A TITAN.

Just now it is interesting to recall that at one period of his life Disraeli had decided to leave the life of a Turk. "Very much confirmed by me," he wrote in Turkey. "And the Turkish grandees told him that he must be one of the Eastern race because he walked so slowly," was Disraeli's heart at once—London Evening Standard.

LET GO THERE; YOU'RE TAKING IT ALL!

REORGANIZATION OF THE SENATE

There can be no complaint from any one except the individuals who are affected by the Democratic party carries out its determination to reorganize its leadership in the Senate in order to force through the government ship-purchase bill at the next session of Congress. This is a matter which rests entirely within the discretion of Democratic leaders. It is natural that they should want to close up their lines to provide a vigorous and compact fighting machine. As an adjunct to this plan of campaign, however, closure will be a failure.

It is all very well for the Democratic leaders to discipline their own party associates, but when they attempt to fix an arbitrary rule for closing debate in the Senate they are encroaching upon public rather than individual rights.

It is a small matter to the public that the long windiness of any senator should be ruled by the yardstick. In some instances it would be a real relief if speeches were shortened. It is unfortunate for the plans of the Democratic leaders, however, that the closure rule which is contemplated encroaches upon the principle of free speech. If it were to be adopted, the usefulness of the United States Senate would be destroyed. It would not be long before the people of the country would begin to wonder why they had to bear the expense of maintaining a superfluous chamber of Congress. The Senate, in a word, would be merely a rubber stamp for the majority party in the House.

The Senate leaders are wholly within their rights in reorganizing their own party to increase their chances of putting through the ship-purchase bill. Perhaps this program will advance the project which it is designed to serve. The closure plan, however, will not only delay the ship-purchase bill, but will also interfere seriously with the enactment of the national defense program. If a filibuster could defeat the ship-purchase bill, what will it not do to the closure rule? If members of the minority are willing to talk for twelve hours each against the ship-purchase bill, for how many hours will they be willing to labor individually in a filibuster against the closure rule?

It is conceivable that the next session of Congress, instead of being one of the most useful in the history of the country, may turn into a farce if the Democratic leaders insist upon pressing for the adoption of a rule that will arbitrarily close debate at the will of the majority.—Washington Post.

NOTABLE PERSONS.

Although technically a new Congressman "Uncle" Joe Cannon is to be accorded an unusual privilege. MOVIES HAVE REPLY.

To the Editor of The Tribune:
I quote below copy of a letter I have today addressed to S. E. Herbs in answer to the communication published in The Tribune of November 5:

"Your letter in the issue of The Tribune of November 5 has been brought to my attention. I take exception on behalf of the Motion Picture Board of Trade of America to the statement in your closing paragraph that 'people have committed crime through the influence of motion picture scenes'."

"If you have evidence of authentic cases in which this has occurred I would be mighty glad indeed to have you give me time, place, names and addresses so that I may investigate them. I have personally investigated scores of alleged cases where the motion picture was said to have been an incentive to crime, and I have yet to find a single authentic case where the fact could be demonstrated."

"On behalf of the good name of the motion picture industry I object to misstatements like that made in the letter in question."

"Will you kindly furnish me with whatever evidence you may have corroborating your statement. Thank you. Very truly yours,

SAYS 'PIOUS ATHEISTS' IN UNIVERSITY

Prof. George Holmes Howison Starts Faculty Discussing

"Pious atheists" are being developed in the philosophy department of the University of California, in the opinion of Professor George Howison, one of the leading philosophers of the world, who formerly occupied the chair of philosophy at the local institution of learning. He told this to the members of the Philosophical Union of the university, thereby starting a discussion among faculty members, graduate students and undergraduates, which threatens to develop into a fight for the reorganization of the college department.

"The University of California department of philosophy has aimed to develop a philosophy of religion," the venerable philosopher began. "It has found that purpose insofar as its product shows. It has succeeded only in graduating pious atheists. Pious, they speak of subjective theism. They do not mean that. In reality they mean objective theism." Professor Howison stopped at this point to note the effect of his remarks on his audience. There was no sound for a time, but the interval ended in an ill-suppressed gasp, after which the aged philosopher continued with his talk. He did not touch further on the qualifications of the philosophy graduates, however, proceeding at this juncture to take a fling at the book of Professor Josiah Royce of Harvard on "The Problem of Christianity." He criticized the volume briefly and concluded by expressing the ideas he has of God, which were a feature of his philosophy when he was in the faculty.

Professor Howison is one of the most beloved and venerated of the former members of the state university faculty. He emigrated in 1899 after many years of service and his place has never been filled. His appearance on the lecture platform for a large of several years was an event of rare importance at the university and was so recognized by a large number of persons who attended the Philosophical Union meeting at the philosophy building. Among them were not only members of the faculty who owe much of their training to him as their former master, but other students who revere with the university world generally the memory of his years of service.

Say Guthrie Owed $16,000 on Home

Officials Believe Long Beach Man Suicide

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22.—Letters demanding the immediate payment of a $16,000 mortgage on his residence were found in the correspondence left by W. J. Guthrie, formerly of Buena Vista, whose sudden death on Saturday at Palmis, near here, was found at an autopsy to have been due to a powerful, quick-acting poison.

This fact, however, was not the end of the matter. The district attorney's staff of investigators, and Joseph Marzullo, city detective, who Guthrie earned life insurance to a total amount of about $25,000, have been endeavoring to express themselves as convinced that Guthrie had committed suicide.

The result of the investigation was communicated to Charles Woodworth, deputy district attorney, and also to John H. Harte, coroner of Los Angeles county. The latter said from what he had learned of the case there was nothing to convince him that an inquest was necessary, as in his opinion the case was one of suicide.

Will Take Hughes Off Nebraska Ballot

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 22.—Secretary of State Pool of Nebraska today announced that he would grant the request of Associate Justice Hughes of the Supreme Court and withdraw the latter's name from the Nebraska primary ballot as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Justice Hughes' request was received by Mr. Pool today and he immediately notified the signers of the petition of his decision. "Exercising the authority which I feel I am warranted in using," said Mr. Pool in his communication to the signers, "I have decided to follow the wishes of Justice Hughes in this particular, believing that he, as a member of the highest court of the land, would not request me to do that which was contrary to the existing laws. Should you feel that I have erred in this ruling, I shall be pleased to have you take it before the courts of our state for final adjudication."

GOMPERS'S RESENTFUL AT 'SAMMY'

Addressing Federation, He Notes His Exceptions

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, took a hard today in the convention, held over a jurisdictional dispute between the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers and the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America and took exception to reference to himself as "Sammy."

Joseph McElroy, president of the Iron workers' international, took the floor in defense of his organization's failure to obey the federation's orders and requests in the matter, and declared that if the American Federation of Labor is ever destroyed, jurisdictional disputes will destroy it.

The subject came before the convention today upon the report of the building trades committee, recommending that the iron workers suspend their charter of the Municipal Dock Workers' Union of New York pending investigation of the affairs by a federation committee.

Gompers read from the report of the iron workers' convention held here in September, passages in which it was said "we'll beat Sammy to it," and that Gompers was "intentionally" going to "betray" the union for a member of the carpenters' organization.

"If I am guilty of acting through friendship upon such matters," said Gompers, "I'm not worthy to be president of the American Federation of Labor."

The point at issue grew out of the refusal of the Municipal Dock Workers' Union of New York to affiliate with the carpenters when ordered to do so by the Federation. The dock workers' charter was revoked by the Federation for this refusal. A charter then was granted them by the Iron Workers' International and the iron workers at their September convention decided to follow Gompers' request that it be suspended.

HOST OF 'KIDDIES' HAVE DAY AT FAIR

Over 14,000 Children Were the Guests at Exposition on Key Route Day.

More than 14,000 children were guests at the Exposition Saturday when, on Key Route Day, every child on the east side of the bay who had not seen the Exposition was invited to do so. Thousands of poor children were cared for at the expense of the committees in charge of the day, by public subscription and by city and county aid. The affair was one of the biggest successes ever achieved by a charity movement.

Besides the juvenile guests of the committees many other children who paid their way into the fair went over on the free Key Route trip. Fully 25,000 children in all from this side of the bay attended, according to the figures in possession of the joint committee of the Moose, Rotary, Elks, and Commercial Union of Merchants' Exchange and other organizations, who handled the affair.

From early morning until late in the afternoon every train was packed and hundreds of children from San Berkeley, Alameda, Hayward and Richmond. The little yellow keys, symbolical of Key Route Day, and recognized as a free fare to the Exposition, were given out in the schools, and carried by the children on the streets also distributed these and the "big brother and sister" badges worn by those caring for the little ones.

The committee in charge of the details consisted of L. E. Clay, J. M. Moffitt and A. Vander Nellen of the Moose Club, T. B. Bridges of the Rotary Club, Louis Aber of the Board of Education and Robert Robertson and Harry Williams of the Merchants' Exchange.

The children were shown different important attractions in the zone and were furnished lunch, peanuts and other delights. The committee stayed within its funds in handling the big affair, so far as can at present be computed, according to reports today.

WOMAN IDENTIFIES M'NAMARA CHECKS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22.—Bank checks and corresponding entries in the books of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, by which the prosecution hopes to trace the operations of the McNamara dynamite conspirators, were identified today at the trial of Matthew A. Schmidt, charged with the murder of Charles H. Hays, one of the 23 victims of the Times building explosion two years ago.

Mrs. R. A. Hull, who in 1910 was a stenographer and bookkeeper at the headquarters of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, made the identification. Mrs. Hull was shown checks for various amounts and entries in the books showing that various sums were paid to Herbert Harkin, former business agent of the iron workers' union at Detroit; F. C. Webb, an executive committee member at New York, and E. A. Clancy, a labor leader of San Francisco, for "amortizing" fund and "organization" purposes.

A ledger entry dated June 14, 1910, read: "John J. McNamara, for organizing work by order of the executive board, $2,200."

Mrs. Hull identified this and stated there was a similar entry in the preceding May.

The prosecution alleged that this $2,200 and the various sums advanced to Webb, Harkin, Clancy and others were payments in furtherance of the dynamiting conspiracy which resulted in the blowing up of the Times building with nitroglycerin, alleged to have been purchased by Schmidt as a confederate of James B. McNamara.

Knights of Pythias To Celebrate Visit Of Supreme Official

BRIGADIER F. YOUNG.

Local lodges of the Knights of Pythias and many visitors from interior towns will fill the Oakland Auditorium opera house next Saturday evening in honor of the visit of Brigadier F. Young, supreme chancellor. It will be the first time in fifteen years that a supreme executive of the order has come to the Pacific coast.

Judge Samuels will be the speaker of the evening and Brigadier Young, the principal speaker. Several professional vocalists and a large orchestra will give the musical program, while the uniform rank, in full uniform, will lead color and ceremony to the ensemble.

Under the direction of R. E. Brayton, chairman, and George R. Wagner, secretary, committees have been appointed by the various lodges as follows: Music, Dr. Dietz, H. Scallworth, N. Swanson, T. Lovett; reception—Judge Samuels, N. Vaughn, R. Parker.

The supreme chancellor's itinerary calls for four stops in this state, those outside of Oakland being Sacramento, San Francisco and Los Angeles, and the local members plan to make his stay in this city memorable.

Fear of Evidence Cause of Attack?

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—That Calogero Abruzzi, the Italian fisherman found stabbed to death this morning, may have been a possible witness in the De Marini blackhand case in San Jose, is believed by the police tonight, following an investigation of circumstances surrounding the finding of the man's body on Columbus avenue and Chestnut street, and the discovery that Antonio Pedone and Sam Constantino, who lived in the same house with him, were also stabbed last night.

The police believe that blackhanders attacked the other two men before they found the right man, and that the dead fisherman had evidence in his possession bearing on the San Jose case. This is being investigated.

GERMAN AUTHOR DEAD. CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Dr. Adolf Becker, author of German dialect folktales and a chess expert of international reputation, died at his home here last night. His Bavarian dialect poems appeared in several volumes in Germany. For several years he was president of the German Medical Association of Chicago.

WOMAN SEES HER HUSBAND SLAY IN DUEL

Quarrel Concerning a Launch Causes Death of Fisherman

Dominico Germa, an Italian fisherman, of Oakland, died at the Providence Hospital early this morning following a pistol duel with Frank Bruno, a fellow fisherman, in the presence of the latter's family at Pittsburg, Contra Costa county, yesterday afternoon. Bruno gave himself into the custody of Marshal Fahy.

The duel took place after the two had quarreled over a gasoline launch Bruno purchased from Germa. The latter had gone to Pittsburg from Oakland yesterday morning to demand payment of money which he claimed was due him by Bruno. He called at the latter's home in Black Diamond street, and had lunch with the family.

The two men disagreed over the amount of money due Germa, and came to blows. According to the story told the authorities by Bruno and members of his family, who witnessed the fight, Germa, at the end of the argument, drew a revolver from his pocket and began to shoot.

Bruno ran into the bedroom of his home, and returned with his own weapon. The two men stood ten feet apart and each fired three shots at the other. Germa firing one shot after he had been hit. All of the shots fired by Bruno took effect.

MEXICAN POLICY 'NOT AUSPICIOUS'

Archbishop Glennon Calls Carranza's Worst of Revolutionaries.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 22.—The American recognition of Carranza is called "not auspicious" in a letter from Archbishop Glennon to the Catholic priests of the Archdiocese of St. Louis asking them to celebrate a Thanksgiving mass for Mexico.

The letter says as follows: "In making this our Thanksgiving for the blessings we enjoy, we should remember especially our neighboring people in Mexico, who have suffered and who are suffering so much because of the revolutions which afflict and continue to afflict that unfortunate country. It is true that the recognition of Carranza, perhaps the worst of the revolutionaries, is not auspicious, still we cherish the hope that the government of the United States together with the governments of Southern republics who saw fit to give recognition will not now desert an unwavering people."

"Our government founded on justice and equal rights should not be true to its people or its traditions if, now that it has undertaken the recognition of Carranza, it permitted him to continue a career of injustice and outrage. Our Catholic people await the outcome with anxiety and impatience."

Awarded Child by Japanese Court

Bases Decision on U. S. Court Ruling

TOKIO, Oct. 22.—Mrs. Harriet A. Ellis of Massachusetts has won the first decision in the battle for the possession of her child which has engaged the attention of two continents. The district court of Tokyo handed down a judgment against John Ellis in the suit brought by his wife for the permanent possession of their eight-year-old daughter, the Natalie. Ellis at once brought an appeal to the Tokyo court of appeal, availing himself of the right of appeal, at the same time, that if the appeal court rules against him, he will continue the fight to the supreme court of Japan. It is expected that the case will require another six months or a year for definite settlement.

It is likely that Mrs. Ellis will apply for a temporary order from the court for the immediate custody of the child pending the result of the appeal. The temporary possession will probably be opposed by the defendant.

FORMER RULING FOLLOWED. The Japanese court reached its decision without going into the question of the respective fitness of the parents to act as the child's guardian. The judges refused to consider this point of the case. They held that the decision of the court of Massachusetts, from which Mrs. Ellis had two decrees giving her the custody of her daughter, had created a legal status that ought to be recognized in Japan, just as the status of marriage performed abroad is recognized here. The decision was based largely on consideration of public policy. It being the attitude of the court that a judgment against Mrs. Ellis would affect the validity of the law of Japan in similar cases in the United States.

Ellis, who is a teacher of English in the Higher Commercial School, took his daughter from his wife in 1913 and came to Japan. An attempt to have him extradited having failed, Mrs. Ellis herself came to Japan to begin the fight for the custody of her daughter. All attempts at reconciliation of the couple have failed.

Two Men Arrested for Theft of Copper Coils

Thomas Trane and John White were arrested last night by Patrolmen Granow and Burbank when they were found at Second and Harrison streets in possession of coils of copper rolled up in a blanket. They will be held pending an investigation.

Burbank captured a shoeless burglar earlier in the evening when he saw the man hurrying along the street, stepping lightly in his socks. The man gave the name of Peter F. Rivers, and said he had been walking in his sleep. Burbank took him to a nearby house where Mrs. F. J. Thomas, 247 Third street, said she had been robbed. A pair of shoes abandoned by the burglar in the house fitted Rivers' feet.

Jim Lepri and Romal Lepri, two brothers, are under arrest for the alleged theft of ten sacks of coal which they are alleged to have picked up along the Southern Pacific Railroad tracks.

GRAIN DECIDED SLUMP IN TRADE ON MINES

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—The foreign gold market opened this morning with a slight advance, but was not well supported, and was not well offered. Yesterday's price was $120 1/2 last week, broke into 121 cents to 122 cents for offerings of 1000 ounces. The selling feature was pronounced when it was suggested there was a sufficient supply of buying orders.

There was a slight strengthening of the price in silver. There were bids of $14.00 in New York, and $13.90 on Tompkins street here. The gold price was $120 1/2 to 121 cents and Cash Boy recovered to five cents.

HOUDINI READY TO DEFY DEATH TO BREAK SHACKLES IN MIDAIR

HARRY HOUDINI, THE HAND-CUT WIZARD, WHO WILL
DEFY DEATH SUSPENDED
IN AIR.

WILL PAY HONOR TO FATHER SERRA

202d Anniversary of Birthday to Be Marked at the Exposition.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—The two hundred and second anniversary of the birthday of Father Junipero Serra, founder of the California missions, will be celebrated at the exposition Wednesday.

Joseph R. Knowland, president of the California Historical Landmarks League, will be chairman. The ceremonies will begin in the reception room of the California building at 2:30 p. m.

Count Valla de Salazar, consul-general of Spain to the United States, will respond to an address by Lewis F. Byington, "What California Owe to Spain."

The program includes the reading of Bret Harte's poem, "The Angelus," by Lewis F. Byington; "A Pioneer's Tribute to the First Pioneer," by John J. Lerman; "Junipero Serra, the First Pioneer," by George Wharton James, vocal solo by Mrs. Stella Coughlin Jellicoe, former soloist for Sousa's band. California in song and story will be interpreted by the official exposition band.

The program is being arranged by Laura Brice Powers, secretary to the league.

William P. Seiberlich Is Called by Death

William P. Seiberlich, one of the best known printers in the state, and for many years in different newspaper offices in Oakland and San Francisco, passed away suddenly this morning at his Oakland home. He was 39 years of age and a native of San Francisco. Seiberlich had been in many of the largest newspaper plants of the United States and for some years in the composing rooms of the San Francisco dailies. For some years prior to his death he was connected with The Tribune.

He is survived by a widow, Louise A. Seiberlich; a mother, Mrs. Mary E. Seiberlich, and the following brothers and sisters, Mrs. Agnes Johnston, Mrs. Mark Owsich, Mrs. Annie Devine, Frank Seiberlich and Louise Seiberlich.

The funeral will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at the funeral parlors of Grant D. Miller.

'I May Fail,' He Says, 'but I am Willing to Make Effort'

Tomorrow he will attempt the seemingly impossible. Houdini is to try at noon tomorrow the feat of escaping from a strait-jacket which Sheriff Barnett and a committee of Oakland men will put on him.

It would be tough enough to get out of this strait-jacket while standing on your feet and able to lean against a wall in the struggle to escape. But Houdini will have to support for his feet his leverage for his body.

Houdini has agreed to hang head downward from the roof of the First National Bank building tomorrow at noon, and during his stay will be the prisoner of a strait-jacket.

It will be some struggle.

If Houdini turns the trick, Sheriff Barnett is going to be a very much surprised man.

The sheriff is an expert on strait-jackets, and he does not believe it possible for any human being to escape from one which he adjusts himself.

Houdini is chairman of the committee of citizens that will put the strait-jacket on him. He will try to get out of it. MANY SKEPTICS.

The sporting men of the town are laying money that Houdini will not get out in his last task tomorrow at noon. You can get a wager almost anywhere. Up at the Commercial Club they have decided that Houdini is attempting a foolhardy thing, and that he is going to get in a hot spot at noon to see whether the goods are with it.

Houdini met a Tribune reporter on the stage at the Orpheum last night, and talked with him about the affair smilingly, when he was told that thousands of people thought he would utterly fail.

"I might fail," said Houdini. "You never can tell. Accidents will happen. I am not reckless. The best of us fall down sometimes. But I shall make a try at it. If I fail, it will be no disgrace. Nobody else has ever succeeded in doing it. If I succeed, I will be pleased, and I hope The Tribune will be pleased and that Sheriff Barnett, my challenger, will be satisfied. The bigger the crowd that is there, the better, because I work better when there is plenty going on around me."

AUDIENCE ENTHRALED.

Houdini demonstrated at the Orpheum yesterday that he is certainly the genius of escape, and he left two immense audiences spellbound by his wonderful power as an illusionist.

His audience now gets a taste of the talent of a man who has mystified Europe for eight years and aroused more talk than any individual who ever operated in vaudeville.

The Tribune has now given its contribution to the public this week the wonderful performance scheduled for tomorrow at noon at Fourteenth street and Broadway, in front of The Tribune's downtown office, and which Houdini will give for success there is no question but that the enormous crowd that will gather there will have a fine run for its money. Houdini will try, and try mightily hard, because he will be getting in a hot spot.

A Mme. Defarge In Council Room

Who is Madame Defarge, of the City Council? Like the famous "Citizenship" in Dickens' "A Tale of Two Cities," she sits and knits, hour after hour, while the destinies of the municipality hang in the balance.

For several days the knitting woman has been frequenting the council chamber during the regular morning session. All through the proceedings she sits and knits. Barely she raises her eyes. The stormiest session leaves her still composed and calm. The he may be exchanged between councilmen, and an intimate millionaire may indulge himself in a little freedom. But the knitting woman never misses a stitch, and her fingers ply the shuttle, ready with a treacherous smile.

Madame Defarge sat beneath the guillotine while heads were falling, and knitted silently. Her knitting stretches through Dickens' novel like a strange refrain or a sign of fate.

What is the Madame Defarge of the city council doing? The commissioners watch her with some little uneasiness. Is she too, waiting for heads to drop, they wonder.

Shots Once, Jailed on Three Charges

Vald Selman of Berkeley never realized that yesterday what just one shot fired is his life could do. While hunting in the Berkeley hills near Albany he took aim at what was supposed a quail, a specimen of quail. Now he is in jail, awaiting his trial. The one shot caused his imprisonment on three different charges, namely, for violating the game laws of the state, for discharging a firearm within the city limits and for hunting without a license. The Selman discovered that he had shot a tame pheasant by mistake.

Church Prepares for 29th Annual Gathering

The twenty-ninth annual convention of the Christians Gathered Unto the Name of the Lord Jesus Christ, will be held from Wednesday, November 24, through November 28. The sessions will be held in Bethany hall, East Nineteenth street and Twenty-third avenue.

ADRIATIC SAFE.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22.—The British freight steamer Adriatic, from Genoa, Greece, October 17, for Philadelphia, passed in the Delaware Capes during the night, and will arrive here today. The Adriatic's arrival eliminates her from the report circulated a week ago today that a steamer by that name had been sunk in the European war zone by a submarine.

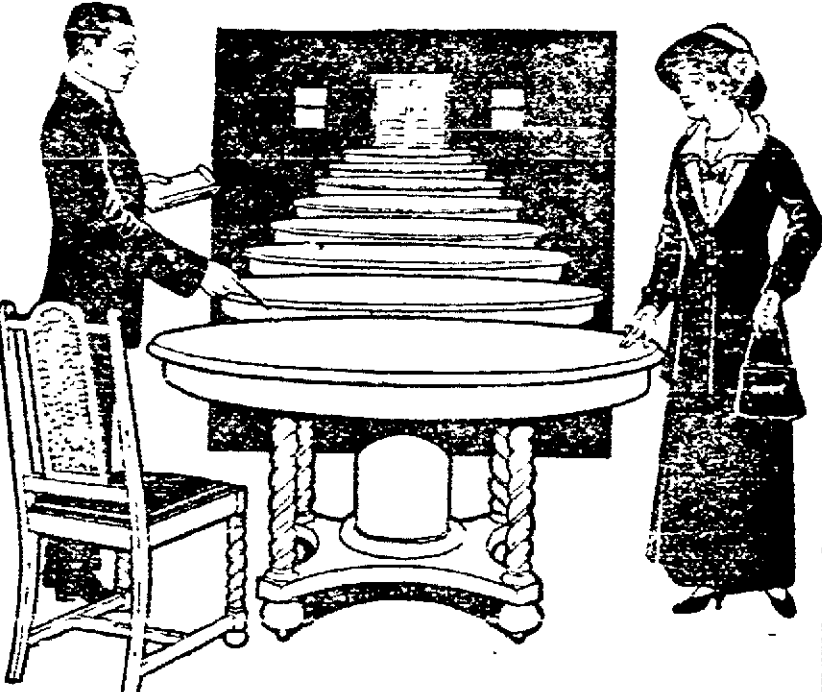

HAPPY OLD AGE.

When old age comes with its host of friends, good health and an abundance of this world's goods, it should be as happy as any period of our existence. That is old age as it should be, but too often it means poor digestion, torpid bowels, a sluggish liver and general feeling of ill health, dependency and misery. The condition can be greatly alleviated, however, by taking one of Chamberlain's Tablets each day immediately after supper. That will strengthen the digestion, tone up the liver and regulate the bowels, thus the feeling of dependency with give way to one of hope and good cheer. For sale by Osgood Bros. Drug Stores.
